

Dr. LeslieBeth Wish Ed. D. MSS.

Psychologist and Social Worker

www.lovevictory.com

(Licensed as a Clinical Social Worker in Florida, 7132; Maryland, 2850; Massachusetts, 3941.)

Dr. LeslieBeth Wish is nationally recognized for her groundbreaking work with women's relationship, career and childhood abuse issues, as well as her work with soldiers and their families. She offers sound, research-based relationship advice that is unique, innovative and fun- and makes sense. Her areas of expertise include issues such as smart dating, women's relationship advice, divorce, career and workplace advice, happy family advice, post-traumatic stress, stress management, holiday stress, sexual dysfunction and leadership training.

Dr. Wish's cartoon strip "Almost Smart Cookie" takes readers through Cookie's love adventures while giving them the tools to improve their own relationships. Each strip is based on Dr. Wish's research findings. She is also a speaker for non-profit, corporate and university organizations and serves as the Co-Director of The Counseling Network of the Special Operations Warrior Foundation, which offers free counseling for grief, post-traumatic stress and family and children needs for military families and veterans.

Dr. Wish's work at the New England Institute of Family Relations-the first Masters and Johnson-based sexual dysfunction clinic in New England-and her research-based book, Incest, Work and Women (under the name LeslieBeth Berger), earned national recognition and established her as a pioneer in sexual dysfunction and women's love and career issues. Her book uncovered the connection between women's childhood abuse and their career problems.

That research sparked Dr. Wish's next ground-breaking project on the relationship problems of women, especially those ages 20-40+. These age groups come from the highest number of divorced or single parents. This factor, combined with increased number of professional women, especially in the fields of law and medicine, has created specific and troubling relationship issues such as disappointing choices of men, affairs and depression. This next book, Strong Women and Love, will be a guide for helping women get over their mistrust, fears and unhappy, unhealthy dating patterns and learn to date and love smart! Her study also included widows, especially those whose spouses were killed in the Iraq and Afghanistan wars.

Dr. Wish is the subject of biographical entries in many of the Marquis Who's Who, including Who's Who in American Women, in the World. Her workshops and lectures are offered through major women's organizations such as state Commissions on Women and at the University of South Florida, Academy of Lifelong Learning. If you are interested in learning more about her study, reading self-help articles or booking a talk, workshop or focus group for your organization, please go to her website www.lovevictory.com.

Dr. Wish's expert advice is frequently quoted in many major newspapers, magazines and websites such as:

- USA Today

- For the Bride Magazine
- The Washington Post
- Women's Health
- US Weekly
- More
- VivMag.com
- Better Homes and Gardens
- Star Ledger
- Family Fun (the Disney Magazine)
- Woman's Day
- Divorce360.com
- Hartford Courant

Dr. Wish is a regular feature contributor/columnist to major self-help sites such as:

www.helpstartshere.org, the award-winning consumer site for the National Association of Social Workers

www.wecai.org, the women's international e-commerce association
www.qualityhealth.com, a top ten health site

www.networkabundance.com, a major multi-media company

www.w2wlink.com, the premier web community for professional women

www.selfgrowth.com, Yahoo and Google's number one self-improvement site.

Thank you! LeslieBeth (LB) Wish, Ed.D.

Psychologist, Social Worker & Author

Licensed as a Clinical Social Worker in:

FL 7132; MD 2850; MA 3941

www.lovevictory.com

Where you can follow the love adventures of the cartoon strip: ALMOST SMART COOKIE

Nationally recognized for contribution to

women, love, relationships, family,

career, workplace and organizations

941.363.0505 office 941.928.1547 cell

dr.l.b.wish@comcast.net

Dr. LeslieBeth Wish Ed. D. MSS.

Psychologist and Social Worker

www.lovevictory.com

(Licensed as a Clinical Social Worker in Florida, 7132; Maryland, 2850; Massachusetts, 3941.)

Dr. LeslieBeth Wish is nationally recognized for her groundbreaking work with women's relationship, career and childhood abuse issues, as well as her work with soldiers and their families. She offers sound, research-based relationship advice that is unique, innovative and fun- and makes sense. Her areas of expertise include issues such as smart dating, women's relationship advice, divorce, career and workplace advice, happy family advice, post-traumatic stress, stress management, holiday stress, sexual dysfunction and leadership training.

Dr. Wish's cartoon strip "Almost Smart Cookie" takes readers through Cookie's love adventures while giving them the tools to improve their own relationships. Each strip is based on Dr. Wish's research findings. She is also a speaker for non-profit, corporate and university organizations and serves as the Co-Director of The Counseling Network of the Special Operations Warrior Foundation, which offers free counseling for grief, post-traumatic stress and family and children needs for military families and veterans.

Dr. Wish's work at the New England Institute of Family Relations-the first Masters and Johnson-based sexual dysfunction clinic in New England-and her research-based book, Incest, Work and Women (under the name LeslieBeth Berger), earned national recognition and established her as a pioneer in sexual dysfunction and women's love and career issues. Her book uncovered the connection between women's childhood abuse and their career problems.

That research sparked Dr. Wish's next ground-breaking project on the relationship problems of women, especially those ages 20-40+. These age groups come from the highest number of divorced or single parents. This factor, combined with increased number of professional women, especially in the fields of law and medicine, has created specific and troubling relationship issues such as disappointing choices of men, affairs and depression. This next book, Strong Women and Love, will be a guide for helping women get over their mistrust, fears and unhappy, unhealthy dating patterns and learn to date and love smart! Her study also included widows, especially those whose spouses were killed in the Iraq and Afghanistan wars.

Dr. Wish is the subject of biographical entries in many of the Marquis Who's Who, including Who's Who in American Women, in the World. Her workshops and lectures are offered through major women's organizations such as state Commissions on Women and at the University of South Florida, Academy of Lifelong Learning. If you are interested in learning more about her study, reading self-help articles or booking a talk, workshop or focus group for your organization, please go to her website www.lovevictory.com.

Dr. Wish's expert advice is frequently quoted in many major newspapers, magazines and websites such as:

- USA Today

- For the Bride Magazine
- The Washington Post
- Women's Health
- US Weekly
- More
- VivMag.com
- Better Homes and Gardens
- Star Ledger
- Family Fun (the Disney Magazine)
- Woman's Day
- Divorce360.com
- Hartford Courant

Dr. Wish is a regular feature contributor/columnist to major self-help sites such as:

www.helpstartshere.org, the award-winning consumer site for the National Association of Social Workers

www.wecai.org, the women's international e-commerce association
www.qualityhealth.com, a top ten health site

www.networkabundance.com, a major multi-media company

www.w2wlink.com, the premier web community for professional women

www.selfgrowth.com, Yahoo and Google's number one self-improvement site.

Thank you! LeslieBeth (LB) Wish, Ed.D.

Psychologist, Social Worker & Author

Licensed as a Clinical Social Worker in:

FL 7132; MD 2850; MA 3941

www.lovevictory.com

Where you can follow the love adventures of the cartoon strip: ALMOST SMART COOKIE

Nationally recognized for contribution to

women, love, relationships, family,

career, workplace and organizations

941.363.0505 office 941.928.1547 cell

dr.l.b.wish@comcast.net